

Library Services Newsletter Autumn 2013

Mood Boosting Books

A good book can give a real boost to the way you feel so to help promote health and wellbeing the trust's libraries are taking part in the national mood-boosting books promotion of uplifting titles, including novels, poetry and non-fiction, recommended by readers and reading groups around the country. This also links in to World Mental Health Day which takes place on 10 October and aims to raise awareness of mental disorders, and to promote discussion about prevention and treatment services. Contact the library for a full list of titles or to request a book. The libraries also hold a collection of self-help books on a wide range of wellbeing topic

Community Outreach Visits

The Community Services Librarian has been visiting a number of Trust sites, including the Community Hospitals, over recent weeks with more to come in the future. This is to support community based staff, introduce the various electronic resources they have access to and to outline how the library can help their practice. The Librarian is available to visit your workplace or attend your staff meetings in order to give you an overview on how the library can help with your practice or learning and to run training sessions.

If you would like a visit, please contact the community services librarian, Vasanthi Elder, on 01434 655076 or email: vasanthi.elder@northumbria-healthcare.nhs.uk.

Sage Journals

We have arranged a trial of Sage health sciences journals from now to the end of October. As we are currently reviewing our journals for 2014, we would be very interested to receive your comments about these or any other journals that you would like us to consider ordering.

For more information, see: <http://library.northumbria.nhs.uk/sage-journals/>

Let us know if there are any books or resources you would like to see in the libraries and we will do our best to meet your requirements.

Tip of the month: Request an article online

You can now use the Trust Library Service website to request a journal article:<http://library.northumbria.nhs.uk/>
