Library training

Your local trust library can help you find the evidence and information you need for your work and CPD. Contact us if you would like a training session on how to find articles on a subject using healthcare databases such as Medline and Cinahl. We offer one-to-one training at a time to suit you, or can arrange group training sessions in the library IT rooms or at your workplace. For more information please click here or email li-brary@northumbria.nhs.uk
